Gabriel Landstedt, from Los Lunas, NM, has studied with Professor Falko Steinbach (UNM) since 2010. He will graduate in May 2016 with majors in Performance and German. Gabriel won First Place in the Jackie McGehee Young Artists Competition in 2012, after which he made his orchestral debut with the NM Philharmonic. He attended the International Piano Festival Lindlar in Germany where he received master classes, made solo appearances, and later studied at the University of Music in Würzburg, Germany. He has received numerous academic and artistic scholarships from UNM and has collaborated with the UNM Wind Symphony and UNM Symphony Orchestra. Images, Book 1 (1909–1910)

Billy Brown poet

Billy Brown follows many passions. A poet and poetry event organizer, his monthly Fixed and Free poetry readings will celebrate eight years in August. A PhD from Dartmouth, Billy teaches mathematics and statistics at UNM and tutors privately. He enjoys singing tenor in two choruses: Madrigal Singers and Soli Musica. He frequently contributes delicious food from his catering business, Cuisine del Corazón, to support arts events such as theater openings, poetry readings and concerts, including several years of support for Chatter Sunday, NM Philharmonic and Tricklock Theater. Billy's latest publication, Chatter Poems and Pastries, a collection of pastry recipes loved by Chatter Sunday patrons and poems written during Chatter Sunday performances, will be available soon. On April 23 Billy will read a poem, written at Chatter Sunday, at the wedding of his niece, Lauren Brown, in the National Cathedral, Washington, DC. Chatter Sunday is the perfect venue for Billy's passions for music, poetry and baking!
