Erin Lynn Marsh Spoken Word

Erin Lynn Marsh earned her MFA through Lesley University's low-residency MFA program in Boston, MA. She has been published in Post Road Magazine, Sugar House Review, Paper Darts, Emrys Journal, the Hers Anthology and wordgathering.com and others. She currently lives, writes and teaches in Bemidji, Minnesota. Her new book of poems, Disability Isn't Sexy, has been praised by several award-winning writers. Jim Cohn of the Museum of American Poets says, "Marsh invites us to access within ourselves the truth that Disability lives matter. Her poems are transformational invitations, stripped bare, openings to reflect upon and consider a re/visioning."
