Chatter Poetry Fellows Spoken Word

Chatter is pleased to announce the inaugural class of fellows in our first-ever poetry fellowship, underwritten by a generous grant from the Undaunted Carnival Foundation. Since our inception as the Church of Beethoven, poetry and spoken word has been an integral part of our community. This is a career development fellowship primarily for poets who identify as African, Latinx, Arab, Asian or Native American. Different perspectives, cultural histories, life experiences and personal stories enrich our series and the art of poetry. We are committed to supporting creators who reflect the diversity of our community. Fellows receive a small stipend. During the course of the fellowship poets are asked to continue writing in their own direction and interest. They are invited to at least two readings at Chatter. At the conclusion of the fellowship, we publish an anthology of works by our fellows. Today is the celebration of the release of the inaugural Chatter Poetry Fellowship chapbook!
