Carolyn Meyer Spoken Word

Carolyn Meyer, author of sixty books for children and young adults before reinventing herself as a humorist and performer, has traveled to a dozen cities, from London to Honolulu, as a storyteller with The Moth. She has written and performed two solo shows in Albuquerque—Don't Call Me Young Lady! in 2019 and The Old White Lady Tells It: The Making and Unmaking of a Racist in 2020. Her new show, Motherhood. What A Bitch! opens Sunday, April 28 at Fusion/The Cell, and is scheduled to run through May 12, Mother's Day. (How perfect is that!)

Thought and Desire (2015)

Linda Catlin Smith (b.1957)

Sonnet 45

The other two, slight air and purging fire,
Are both with thee, wherever I abide;
The first my thought, the other my desire,
These present-absent with swift motion slide.
For when these quicker elements are gone
In tender embassy of love to thee,
My life, being made of four, with two alone
Sinks down to death, oppressed with melancholy;
Until life's composition be recured
By those swift messengers returned from thee,
Who even but now come back again, assured
Of thy fair health, recounting it to me.
This told, I joy; but then, no longer glad,
I send them back again and straight grow sad.

–William Shakespeare
